“ Having had the privilege of observing Sister Cornwell's life from the night she got saved, she was a very sincere young person, and remained true and faithful. One of the greatest virtues she showed was her effort to promote unity among family, friends, and especially the Church of God. She fulfilled Christ's prayer in St. John 17, and is now rewarded. May we all do the same, and receive that reward. We shall greatly miss her.

“ *Our loss is heavnes gain! While we grieve her loss, she has gained the goal we should all be working for, and she is a perfect example to follow, to gain that reward! Sis cornwell was a sweet, humble, and true saint of God, and there was no question of her stand and what she believed! Her burden for souls and the work of the Lord was evident in her life. She will definitely be missed. Love and prayers to the family and congregation in Morgan city!

“ Words would never convey what she meant to us. She was special. Her laugh, her love, her devotion to God and willingness to serve Him regardless of what He asked of her, her love for the congregation, and on and on. We really have no idea how badly she felt for a long while. She did all she could to hide it from us. God only knows how much we will miss her. May God comfort you, Brother Cornwell and family, and know the we are here to help you all in any way possible. We love you all and appreciate how you allowed her to be so much a part of us. Keep the faith, God is standing near.

“ Bro.Cornwell and family are hearts are saddened for your loss of Sis.Cornwell.

She was a precious lady. Every time I was around her we would laugh together over something silly ! She always had a smile. I know she will be missed by all.

She has finished her course here on earth and won the victory of heaven. As the song writer penned the words " What a day that will Be " I can't imagine how she felt to go home on July 2nd but she made it home !!! I know heaven rejoiced. Our thought and prayers are with each of you during this time and the days to follow.

“ We are so very sorry for your loss. And it is a loss for us all at MC COG. I can remember her being my teacher in Bible School when I was a teenager. Some of us boys used to get her to help paint our projects because we told her she was better at painting than we were. That was the truth, but it was also the truth that we wanted to go out and play volley ball instead of finishing our projects. She should not have let us get away with that!

I remember after my wife and I got married, there was one of the holidays that we would get together with the Cornwells once our natural family's dinners were completed. Once we stayed kind of late and almost got iced in at their house. Bro C. tried to get us to spend the night but we were able to slip and slide home.

I believe we also shot a few fireworks with them, went to hot dog roasts at their house, and played pictionary with them.

She had an established testimony in the church, and her contributions will be missed. We are praying that God will help all the family at this difficult time.
