“ Barry was always a big Teddy Bear. He would do anything for anybody and would always make me smile. He loved to crack short jokes about me which was okay coming from him 😊 He was a great nurse and always had your back. He was one of the most compassionate nurses to his patients and took great care of both of his parents until they passed. I have no doubt there was great rejoicing as they were reunited again. We often passed notes on each others lockers or windshields just to say hello. Barry will be greatly missed.
