“ I never remember Byron walking into a room or a house without his huge smile! He didn't miss a child either! He brought joy when he walked in. And we'd sit around for hours and talk about anything and everything. I'm an Auburn fan, so I was a target for kidding about Alabama, but I didn't mind. We have a saying about football in the South" In the North football is a pastime, but in the South it's a religion!" So ribbing was fun. I'm going to miss his joyful soul, but I would rather him be with others than to suffer any longer. There is 1 epitaph in the City Cemetery that reads, "We are gathering Home" & I believe we have 2. He's in the 2nd with others now in peace! With respect and Love, Robin
