“ To the brother I never really got to know: you will forever be in my heart and you'll be forever greatly missed. I'm sorry we never got the chance to really know each other and I hate that God took you from us way too soon. I know you'll be looking down on all of us from time to time and giving us that reminder that you're still our little brother. I love you always John and I'll always be your big sis.
