“ He was a wonderful teacher to his great grandchildren, teaching them how to make candles out of beeswax, and homemade soap and chapstick out of beeswax, he also taught them how to can vegetables, which is a dying art, he was well loved by all, and will be missed by many.

“ There are so many good memories of Lyle & his late wife Marcia we could share but there would not be enough space for others to share their thoughts. We met the Greenwoods when they lived in St. Johns, Michigan back in the 1970's. Lyle was a true Master of all trades and would be there when you needed any help or advice. He was a tease with his tape ruler and help me put in hundreds of Christmas trees on a small tree farm. He was a great 4- H youth leader and went by a CB handle of "The Chicken Picker." I could go on and on but will end this salute to an old solider with this thought. "If there are "Chickens and Bee's" in heaven and I'm sure there are, then Lyle will be tending to them. God Bless the Greenwood family. The Wainwright's....Duke, Dortha, Linda and Art 111.

I remember working on the farm processing chickens in the 70's and hunting deer with Uncle Art there in the 80's. Uncle Lyle was a great man and father I'm sure he will be missed by all who knew him.
