“ Denise might not even have remembered me because it's been so many years. She and I were each other's very best friends in first grade and I cried for days when she moved away from the Grove a short time later. RIP, my sweet friend.

“ I always looked up to Denise & her older sisters. When I spent the night with them I would watch her put on her makeup & fix her hair. I loved it because Denise would always be singing songs loudly as she was busy doing things. I loved her
