*Now i can say something after being in a totally shock over the passing of Nila. this woman was one of a kind. I met her at Forest Manor Nursing Home where I worked. Nila was a very Pretty Woman Neat & Very Particular how she wanted things done. She took me under her wings. I can say she loved herself some Tarra & I loved her as well. Everybody knew this at work they use to tell me, your lady want you or your lady said to come to her room. Nila thought I was the only one that could do something right for her of course this made me feel so good even though I screw up sometimes but I was one of the ones that she forgave very easily. this one hurts & caught me totally off guard. my Mom used to call her Pretty Lady and it's so ironic because my nickname is Pretty Face another thing we had in common is that I'm called Sunshine and when she told me that was her nickname when she was working we both chuckled about it. there will always be Many Memories between us that I will keep in my heart so farewell my Best Friend see u in Heaven. to the Family, U have lost an Angel but GOD has Gain an Angel....
