My heart is broken. We raised our boys together like sisters. You will be missed, our phone conversations over the miles away. I will see you and Roger again one day. God Bless your family. 💔

I don't have the words that will help all the sorrow and loss y'all feel. Trudy was my sister for most of my life. I miss coming to her house so she could make me a homemade chocolate pie. And my kids always called Sunday har-dale day as we would always gather at Granny's for lunch. I miss her,just knowing I'll see her again eases some of the pain. I love you guys
