“ He was in many ways different. I have traveled with him through several disappointing situations of life, which is a part of everyone's life. He always managed to come out a better person on the other side, all except for this terrible cancer diagnosis. Until then, his lease on life was precious. He enjoyed life to the fullest until he could no longer drive to visit friends at a local tobacco shop. I am sure, wherever he is, he is having fun rejoicing and rejoining his mother, dad, grandfather/grandmother Hardin, Grandfather/grandmother Thrower, his sister, and her two children, three nephews, one niece, brother in law, two of his grandchildren, two uncles. their wives, one aunt/ husband, two close cousins, and many friends. He is leaving behind two sisters, one aunt, a wife. Travis wherever you are "Go high upon that mountain! for we will be right behind you. I can't tell you when, only God knows this. My Sympathy is extended to all. Know God is in control now. Goodbye my brother, may you now have Peace from all earthly outside forces. Love you and will see you down the road. I already miss you. Tell everyone, I love them and will see them down the road. Thank God, Travis is resting on his own and happy. Love Sis
